

If your child has special needs that challenge their ability to succeed within an expanded class setting and/or could benefit from a therapeutically-driven treatment or educational program, this program could provide a new opportunity for success. Applications to the program are accepted on a continual basis.

Problem

As a parent you want the best for your child. Public and private schools are sometimes unable to meet the exceptional needs of students. Those difficulties can affect family life too. Hourly treatment often isn't enough to produce lasting solutions. More support is needed. A specialized school in tandem with a supportive home environment, with continuous academic assistance and clinical treatment designed for kids with exceptional needs, would solve the problem.

Solution

Our program succeeds where other schools have failed. We meet your child's needs day and night for continuous improvement. Applewood is a complete solution to your academic, therapeutic and boarding needs. We work with your child so they can come home happy, healthy and confident.
